ALMOND GOURMANDE

Fall 2013 brings the introduction of 5 experiential new scents - Côte d'Azur, Climbing Wild Rose, Mediterranean Fig, Blooming Jasmine, and Herbes de Provence.

As has historically been the case with South of France products, our products today are infused with blends of Natural and Essential Oils and Fragrance, which result in these 12 complex scents that evoke sensory images of life in the South of France.

While natural essential oils are used in formulating the fragrance notes, trace amounts of synthetic ingredients are also used. These synthetic ingredients are not petroleum-based and do not contain phthalates and are designed to comply with the Natural Products Association standards of 2009. Synthetic ingredients also replicate certain natural notes that could otherwise only be obtained through the use of endangered natural materials.

We cannot divulge the specific recipe of each scent because we work with master perfumers for whom each composition is their own unique creation.
